

Implants at The Old Surgery

Russell Holloway BChD Implant Referrals

GDC number 77743

Russell qualified in 1998 from Leeds University. Initially, Russell spent two years working in general practice before taking up a post in the hospital service; training in the field of maxillofacial surgery and particularly dental implantology. Russell was lucky enough to work in Queensland, Australia and later in Sheffield where he secured six months working with Professor Ian Brook (Professor Oral Maxillofacial Surgery, Specialising in Implantology). Russell has continually attended many seminars and Advanced Implant Training under some of the UK's leading implantologists.

In 2010 The Old Surgery were delighted to welcome Russell to their team. This exciting role will allow Russell to place implants to replace missing teeth and also for the Denture Clinic to give patients struggling with dentures the added security of implant retained dentures.

Services available

Russell Holloway can work together with referring dentists to provide implants using the Straumann® system. We plan our implant placements meticulously and do everything we can to maximise the lifetime of the implant.

We can provide implant placement ready for restoration by the referring dentist or we can provide a full service of implants and the appropriate restoration.

Simon Owen, our Clinical Dental Technician, is available to work alongside Russell to provide implant retained dentures should you request it.

Fee guide

Our standard implant fee for a single implant retained porcelain crown (tooth) includes all diagnostic stages, radiographs, study models, pre-treatment diagnostic wax-ups, provision of a surgical guide to allow precise placement of your implant, all implant components and the provision of the final porcelain restorations.

It is occasionally necessary for patients to need a CT scan to check the quality and amount of bone in the area into which we wish to place the implant. If this is required we can arrange for this to be carried out at the surgery or, if more convenient, at the patient's own home.
